

CIBSE
Home Counties South East

The Green Deal

Can it be revived?
Is it worth reviving?

A panel discussion – open to the public

The “Green Deal” is the Government’s flagship scheme for improving energy efficiency in the home, but since its launch in January 2013 uptake has been low, and the stated objective of 10,000 “Green Deals” by the end of 2013 appears to be wildly optimistic. Given the issues of escalating household energy bills, fuel poverty concerns, the cost of environmental obligations and the poor energy efficiency of so many homes in the UK, what should be done to address these issues?

Wednesday 16th October 2013

6.30pm: Ashcroft Room, Fairfield Hall,
Croydon

Speakers:

Bob Fiddik - Team Leader: Sustainable Development & Energy, Croydon Council

Dr Damian Markham-Smith – building sustainability expert

Laura Polglase – an independent Green Deal assessor

Chris Jones: Chartered Environmentalist and commentator

Chair: Richard Davies – Transition Town Wimbledon Energy Group and regional chairman of CIBSE: Home Counties SE

CIBSE is the Chartered Institution of Building Services Engineers, a professional Institution promoting knowledge of the Building Services Engineering both with the profession and the wider public.